Do not use Diclofenac Gel on an open skin wound, or on areas of eczema, infection, skin rash, or burn injury. All medicines may cause side effects, but many people have no, or minor, side effects. This may not be a complete list of all interactions that may occur. If you miss a dose of Diclofenac Gel, use it as soon as possible. It may also be used for other conditions as determined by your doctor. You will need to discuss the benefits and risks of using Diclofenac Gel while you are pregnant. Diclofenac Gel should not be used in children; safety and effectiveness in children have not been confirmed. Follow the directions on your prescription label. Keep Diclofenac Gel out of the reach of children and away from pets. Avoid contact with the eyes. When treating the hand, spread the gel out onto all areas of the hand including the fingers and palms. Tell your doctor or pharmacist if you have any medical conditions, especially if any of the following apply to you: Improvement usually occurs within 30 days after you stop using Diclofenac Gel. Check with your doctor if any of these most common side effects persist or become bothersome: We voltaren for sale are glad to see that the movement to revive the Index Medicus is being aided in various quarters.
