When the bruised cord is examined microscopically, some time after the autopsy, by a different observer knowing nothing about the autopsy accidents, Tylenol Precise Coupons the disposition is natural enough, at first glance, to regard the changes as preformed malformations, and it is fair to suppose that some of the published cases have come about in this way. In examining a laboratory collection of about seventy-five human spinal cords taken out for suspected lesions in ordinary routine autopsies, seven of these showed effects of bruising. However, Tylenol Cold And Sinus Coupons it must require a very practiced operator to use this method without contusing the cord. Buy Tylenol - Lowest Prices! Both the distribution and structure of the lesions may be so much altered that the bruised part has to be discarded. As a matter of fact, it is very easy to bruise the spinal cord at the autopsy, and it is quite frequently done. On the other hand, a great deal of force and hammering with the chisel and the mallet in opening the spinal canal may not disturb the cord at all. After a week or two, ordinary bichromate solutions may be used. Partial cord duplication, caused by bruises, is described but two or three times.
