I am on the generic and have noticed no difference. I was looking forward to the generic, but I now have experienced difficulty falling and staying asleep as well some mood instability with it. Is there any chance that anyone knows of anything diff with the generic that could be effecting me? Yes, got mine filled two weeks ago and was given generic. So, will keep trying the generic for a while, but if things don't improve, I'll call my shrink and see what he thinks I should do go up on the generic or switch back to the expensive Seroquel XR. If not then has anyone else been having issues with the generic seroquel in terms of symptoms or is it just a coincidence that I seem to have gone batshit in line with making the switch? Edited at I take generic when I can. I can't function either way on the original or higher dose so I'm not sure where to go with all of this. I've seen it in some of my patients that have adverse reactions to generics and been approved by insurance provider to take DAW. I talked to my Dr. Zyrtec di cetirizine and cetirizine- cetirizine makes you sleepy and doesn't work on everybody People with BiPolar Disorder are not stupid, just emotionally compromised at times.
