Use with caution in pets with very low blood sodium levels. The usual dose to treat dogs is 0. What are the potential side effects of Benazepril? Rated 3 out of 5 by rocky from Too big I got these pills initially from the vet, and i could tell my dog didn't really like them cause i had to hide them deep in her treats for her to take them. I would recommend using a pill cutter to correctly cut them in half to get the right dose for your dog. Takes me like 10 min everyday to get her to eat it, kind of a hassle.
