Stocks edge up as tariff fears recede. You can also find out whether any of your other medications will interact with Allegra , Claritin , or Zyrtec. In many cases, the same manufacturers produce the generic products and the brand name. In some cases, it makes sense -- in others, it doesn't. Staple food products like flour, sugar, corn starch, pepper and others are regulated. When it comes to deciding whether to buy generic products or brand name, I usually go generic if the product is a regulated commodity. It's the one that gives you the individual the greatest relief with the fewest side effects at the lowest price. American consumers had to deal with this reality during the recent financial crisis. Don't hesitate to use generic brands. The same antihistamine in Zyrtec, for example, is available as Aller-Tec at Costco, as Wal-Zyr at Walgreens, or even totally "unbranded" almost anywhere. If your primary symptom is a stuffed up nose, you can also ask your doctor about decongesting nasal sprays. Despite what the gas stations might tell you about the additives they use, this is another regulated product with little variation between companies. Or at least their marketing is.
