If you have taken an illegal medicine and are concerned about possible side effects, speak to a healthcare professional or seek medical treatment. Boots is the only pharmacist to have received permission to sell prescription-only viagra, and any issuing of viagra must be accompanied by appropriate health checks. The RPS has developed a logo that will appear on the first page of registered online pharmacies. More seriously, they could be putting their health in danger. It is illegal to sell drugs without an appropriate licence and, in the UK, there are currently no internet pharmacists that are licensed to distribute viagra without a prescription. Any websites claiming to sell viagra should be avoided as they will not be regulated by the Royal Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain RPS and there may be concerns over quality, safety and effectiveness of the products they provide. Unregulated websites cannot provide this important safety measure. To get permission, pharmacies must be approved by the Medicines and Healthcare Regulatory Agency and the Care Quality Commission, which regulate the provision of medicines and healthcare. What if I have purchased or used a medication that I think may be illegal? They must be registered with the RPS, which regulates their safety. Unscrupulous, illegal websites could still copy and display this logo so, in addition to this, the RPS recommends that users do the following:.
